During the wilderness years, God provided the food needs of the Hebrew people with a daily supply of manna. This was an unusual, extraordinary, even supernatural way to meet a common need. But it didn’t last. The writer of the book of Joshua records, And there was no longer manna for the people of Israel, but they ate of the fruit of the land of Canaan that year (Joshua 5:12).

Instead of manna, the Hebrews began eating what the land grew. The fruit of the land is ordinary, normal, and natural. Is God in this too? Or is it only in the miraculous situations that we can confidently affirm God’s care? Did the change from manna to the fruit of the land signal a change in God’s engagement with His people? Was it because of a shift in the people’s spirituality?

Should we seek manna experiences? How should we feel or think when we are sustained by the ordinary fruit of the land?

Moses, who knew God during both extraordinary times of manna and the ordinary fruit of the land answers our questions this way: For the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and springs, flowing out in the valleys and hills, a land of wheat and barley, of vines and fig trees and pomegranates, a land of olive trees and honey, a land in which you will eat bread without scarcity, in which you will lack nothing, a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills you can dig copper. And you shall eat and be full, and you shall bless the LORD your God for the good land he has given you (Deuteronomy 8:7-10).

God sometimes provides in extraordinary ways. God often provides in ordinary ways. Our responsibility is the same: to offer recognition and gratitude because all good things come from His hand.

This past year at Faith Builders, we experienced a number of difficult situations, including the tragic death of Beatrice King. In those challenges, the sustaining provision of God came to us through the love and care of His people, through many gifts, prayers, and words of encouragement. We received ordinary grace and extraordinary blessing.

As we reflect on the past year, we offer this annual report as a means of openness and accountability to the people to whom we are responsible. We welcome your questions, concerns, and encouragement.
I teach grade 7 at Countryside Christian School, but also have classes in grades 6-10. My wife Melissa and I are youth sponsors in our youth group and hope to build significant relationships with our neighbors. Our goals include being involved members of our church and seeing my students become passionate about Jesus. In relationships, I want to seek first to understand rather than demand to be understood.

My time at FB taught me the importance of the hard work of preparation, which usually marks the difference between a good teacher and a great teacher. I also learned that gratitude, rather than pride or shame, is the way to consider the heritage we Anabaptists have been given.

Joey Shantz, 2016 TAP graduate
Faith Builders desires to shape the heart while informing the mind. Every Christian Ministry student takes core courses to broaden their understanding of the world while choosing courses, such as music or discipleship, that focus on their specific interest of ministry.

Outside the classroom, ministry apprentices experience a wide range of hands-on ministry such as prison work, kids club, hospital volunteering, and reading programs. With guidance from teachers and mentors, students learn to notice needs around them and use their resources to meet those needs. Each Christian Ministry student spends at least five weeks as an intern in an established ministry to observe and experience the rigors and skills required for full-time ministry. As they practice what they learned in the classroom, students find that service requires faithfulness in small things and ordinary life.

We believe that the world is hungry for the presence of Jesus. As God’s people walk with Jesus and take on His character, they can be part of His healing, restoring ministry to broken, needy people.

I am an accountant at Choice Books of Northern Virginia. I am also studying for a bachelor’s degree in accounting with a minor in psychology.

I envision serving the church by helping hurting people toward experientially knowing Jesus’ love. I don’t know if this will be in formal counseling or informally coming alongside people, creating safe community in church life.

My time at FB significantly enhanced my view of the church’s role on earth. Before FB, I was hoping to pursue counseling. Now I have a vision for the church itself becoming a safe place for people to bring their hearts, be heard, and be committed to each other even in suffering. My heart thrills when I think of fulfilling my role in the body of Christ in this way.

Rosalie Snyder, 2016 Christian Ministries graduate
We seek to equip students who want to enter long-term jobs as conservative Anabaptists. Faith Builders offers general education courses in Christ-centered ways and provides a faith-friendly place for students to ask tough questions. The General Studies program gives students a way to see and interact with God and the world before they step into challenging situations such as a secular college campus or the business world.

Because the point of college is to foster change and growth, we want students to know how to engage the shaping influences that their future will hold and to make good choices in any moments of tension. Faith Builders provides a stable environment that emphasizes the enduring truth of Jesus. Because people gravitate towards those who are most like them, we aim to ground students in solid relationships within the Anabaptist community so that when they enter the diverse culture of the wider society, they are ready to contribute to, be accountable to, and benefit from their community.

TRANSFERRING WORK

Colleges in Ohio, Virginia, Kansas, Indiana, and Pennsylvania have accepted and issued credit for the work of Faith Builders graduates.

As a senior in Grace College’s health science program, I am thrilled to be pursuing a degree in pre-medicine. I spend most of my time endeavoring to understand the created world in the study of biology and chemistry. I am completely enamored with how beautifully and intricately God created the human body.

My goal is to be a family doctor. I envision opening a family practice and using medical opportunities to help people spiritually as well as physically. I'm delighted with the Kingdom opportunities medicine presents.

My FB experience shaped me significantly by encouraging me to develop and use my gifts. It helped me understand how my dream for medicine could play a role in building the Kingdom.

WINTER TERM
JANUARY 1 - FEBRUARY 2, 2017

In Winter Term, pastors sit in classes beside future teachers and twenty-year-olds enjoy discussions with classmates in their fourth and fifth decades of life. Winter Term 2017 was an opportunity for personal growth with classes like Reading the Bible and Anabaptism as a Worldview. Those who wished to understand the roots of our faith could tool up with Modern Church History and Historical Theology. Those musically minded could go deeper with five class options in the music department. Ladies found encouragement in Women Caring for Women and Women of Faith.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS CONFERENCE
JANUARY 26-28, 2017

The Administrators Conference develops practical skills and builds lasting relationships among administrators serving in conservative Anabaptist schools. The goal of this conference is to strengthen our schools’ effectiveness. This year, John Coblentz presented three sessions to help administrators think about how to lead schools in issues of gender and sexuality in a confused society. Steven Brubaker led the administrators in a work session on big-picture school planning, and Norita Yoder spoke to the women about the work of Mennonite women in the past.

COLLEGE STUDENT WEEKEND
JUNE 29-JULY 2, 2017

At a Faith Builders Colloquy around fifteen years ago, an attendee suggested that something needed to be done to encourage Mennonite college students. The challenges to their faith in Christ and the Anabaptist way of living out that faith can be overwhelming, she said. That discussion resulted in the annual College Student Weekend. Each July 4th weekend, Faith Builders hosts up to 42 college students for several days of talks, workshops, and relaxed interaction. The weekend is a great way to offer support to Anabaptists who want to navigate college with prudence.

TOPICS INCLUDED
The Blessings and Perils of Being an Articulate Intellectual
#NotmyKing: Anabaptists Living Between Elections
If You Are Not For Us, You Are Against Us: When Tolerance is Not Enough
The Word of God: Can We Discern Authorial Intent?
Reclaiming the Possibility of a Christian Imagination

“We the retreat is in many ways the highlight of our year. Without that support group, I am fairly certain I would not have lasted this long in administration.”

“It was an intense weekend but well planned. I enjoyed networking with other colleagues and having so many mentors and wise staff who have also come through college and have so much experience to share.”
SUMMER TERM
JUNE 26-JULY 28, 2017

We are grateful for a good Summer Term 2017. Record enrollment and an abundance of couples and families made this summer especially memorable. Over 500 youth from high schools and Bible schools received information about service opportunities with these ministries. Attendees chose from 100 presentations in which speakers were committed to filling the earth with the glory of God.

Faith Builders hosted our third ministry convention, REACH 2017, at Calvary Church, Lancaster, PA in March. This venue made it possible to host almost 2,000 attendees. We have started planning for REACH 2019, scheduled for March 20-21, 2019.

"It really does my spirit good to see all the different missions and churches coming together for the purpose of promoting God's Kingdom."

TEACHERS WEEK
AUGUST 1-4, 2017

Melvin Lehman presented four sessions on authority, exploring the foundation for the teacher’s authority and how that connects with the community and the classroom. Jeremy Sauder presented four sessions for newer teachers about “Educating for the Kingdom,” and Howard Lichty spoke to more experienced teachers on “Identifying and Developing Your Strengths.”

"I took many practical ideas back to my classroom from Summer Term. It was well worth giving up five weeks of summer vacation."

APPRENTICING TERM
AUGUST 21-SEPTEMBER 15, 2017

After orientation, two-year students began a four-week term of apprenticing focused on their area of interest. Teacher apprentices spent hours developing and presenting lesson plans while receiving feedback from peers and seasoned instructors. Christian Ministry and General Studies students gave significant time performing community service projects, ending this year’s term with a week-long trip to Houston, TX to help clean up after Hurricane Harvey. Each student journaled and debriefed their varied experiences with teachers and mentors. The thirteen-week, academically-focused Fall Semester began immediately after the Apprenticing Term and continued into December.

TEACHERS CONFERENCE
OCTOBER 13-15, 2017

The Teachers Conference supports and equips long-term teachers through general sessions, skill-building workshops, and informal interaction. Daryl Weaver (Ephrata, PA) presented three sessions on the theme “The Christian School: Nurturing the Practice of Brotherhood.” Nine workshops offered development in various areas of teaching. This year, 110 teachers and 18 Faith Builders students attended the conference.

“I was inspired to become a humble, hungry, and emotionally-intelligent team player in building brotherhood in our schools.”

HEART AND VOICE
NOVEMBER 10-12, 2017

The Heart and Voice weekend inspires men to lead their families and churches in worshiping God with beautiful music. This event grew out of a love of men’s music and a desire to give men an opportunity to sing challenging music with capable singers.

Fifty-three men from the US and Canada, ages 20-60, came for two days of rehearsal. This culminated in two programs hosted at Bethel Christian Fellowship (Narvon, PA) and Cornerstone Mennonite Church (Ephrata, PA).

Faith Builders Christian School serves our community by providing a sound, Christian education while offering a supportive atmosphere for Teacher Apprentices to grow.

We operate FBCS like any other school in order to offer teacher apprentices a place to learn that can easily translate to their home church and school. We also create the necessary space for TAP students to teach a significant number of classes during the school year. This calls for flexibility and patience from our FBCS students and teachers, but also offers the rewards of experiencing many different styles of teaching and learning.

The nature of apprenticing requires a low teacher to student ratio. With eight full-time and four part-time staff to guide them, our 20 TAP students receive substantial personal attention in their development. We are grateful to be able to offer opportunities to train teachers for our communities. We want this program to develop long-term teachers who are godly, wise, mature, competent, and who serve their communities by developing lovers of God and servants of others.

The expansion and maintenance of our buildings is an important part of making our programs effective. We are grateful for the many people who have donated money and assisted with work projects. We praise God for His material blessings.

The ladies’ open dorm was completely gutted and remodeled in May. We now have nicely furnished rooms that provide better accommodations for ladies in summer and winter terms.

In July, J. D. Nissley worked to repoint the old brick on the west side of the center section. (picture on top)

Southwood is an adjacent property with two acres and a doublewide. The owner sold it to us at a discounted price and our board raised the funds to pay for it. We are currently using this home for married student housing. (two lower pictures)

We purchased two trailers in Northwoods Court that were formerly owned by owners. The King family generously offered what was formerly Beatrice King’s trailer to us at a discounted price. We are currently using it to house married students. The second trailer is in the process of being remodeled and will provide additional housing for married students in future terms.

We contracted National Fuel to install natural gas service at Northwoods Court. This saves money by utilizing a more economical heating fuel for our students and staff living off-site. (picture below)

THE 2017 STUDENT BODY

THE 2017 VOLUNTEERS

EVENTS IN 2018

OPEN HOUSE
APRIL 5-6, 2018
The spring open house provides an opportunity to explore Faith Builders. We invite high school seniors and other young people to attend this one-day event and experience a day in the life of a Faith Builders student.

Register online at www.fbep.org/open-house.

PROMOTIONAL BANQUET
APRIL 9, 2018, 6:00 PM
Faith Builders will host a promotional banquet at the Shady Maple Smorgasbord (East Earl, PA). The program will offer a window into what is happening at Faith Builders and provide an opportunity to interact with staff and students.

Call Vivian at (814) 789-4518 ext. 224 by March 1 to reserve your space.

ADMINISTRATORS CONFERENCE AND RETREAT
JANUARY 25 - 27, 2018
Richie Lauer (Hillsville, VA) will present sessions designed to help school administrators lead with clarity. In addition, Steven Brubaker (Guys Mills, PA) will lead a work session for administrators and Dorcas Smucker (Harrisburg, OR) will speak to the women.
Five spaces remain.

Register online at www.fbep.org/acr.

WINTER TERM
JANUARY 1 - FEBRUARY 2, 2018
Winter Term is designed to address the needs of a wide range of students, young and old, in various callings and walks of life. People can attend as little as two weeks or the entire five-week term. Full-time Faith Builders instructors are joined by church and mission leaders with teaching experience.

Course descriptions and registration are available online at www.fbep.org/wt or in hard copy by request from our office.

We need someone with construction experience to oversee multiple renovation projects, small and large. This is a long-term paid position.

A small team continues to develop Living History Weavings for grades 5 and 6. Building on Living History Threads, a grades 1-4 curriculum, Weavings introduces students to the people and cultures of Asia, Africa, and eastern Europe.

In Weavings, students will encounter the history, geography, and culture of lives very different from their own. At the same time, they will be encouraged to appreciate God’s work among all peoples. We are excited about the potential of these units to shape the loves of children in our schools. Curriculum development is time-consuming and expensive, and Faith Builders welcomes your participation in prayer and giving.

Planned Giving

Long-term, Planned Gifts
These gifts enable supporters to extend their giving and to demonstrate Kingdom-centered values to their children.

Appreciated Assets
Real estate, mutual fund shares, or stocks often appreciate significantly in value during the owner’s lifetime. Donating these assets generates an income-tax deduction and avoids loss of proceeds to capital gains tax.

Agricultural Commodities
Donating these to a charity instead of giving cash provides more tax savings than selling grain or livestock and later giving the cash from the proceeds.

A Bequest
Any type of property willed to a charity is a bequest. Creating a bequest plan ensures that your wishes are carried out after your death, and demonstrates your values to your heirs.

The Charitable Gift Fund Program
Anabaptist Foundation enables you to support Faith Builders anonymously while receiving a tax deduction, protecting your privacy and simplifying your giving. You may donate cash, securities, real estate, agricultural commodities, or anything of market value. In return, you have the privilege to recommend when the gifts will be distributed and which charities will benefit.

Faith Builders works with Anabaptist Foundation to manage the details of planned giving. For more information, contact Matthew Mast: 814-789-4518 ext. 226 matthewm@fbep.org

Giving from non-cash assets or an estate plan requires prayerful planning and discussion with trusted advisors. Matthew is glad to discuss options with you, but does not provide tax or legal advice. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your specific tax situation.
Faith Builders exists to prepare students for joyful, humble, Christlike service in God's Kingdom.

RESOURCES FROM CLR

SIMPLE SERVINGS
This year we mourned the sudden loss of our friend, Beatrice King. She worked here for 23 years and loved us well with food and laughter. We deeply value the legacy she left. This cookbook she compiled is full of recipes, stories, and photos.

UPON YOUR HEART
This CD from Faith Builders Chorale explores various aspects of our relationship with God. The title reflects the believer's confidence in God's commitment to His people.

JOURNEY INTO GOD
This book by John Coblentz shares a vision for life-giving relationship with the Creator of the universe who pursues us. Journey Into God offers a pathway to deeper, fuller, and freer relationship with our loving Creator.
